

DEATH CLOSES ACTIVE CAREER

Thomas J. Jones, 72, died early Tuesday morning, death being caused by rheumatism and contributory ailments, from which he has been suffering for the past three years. His death closes the career of one of Cedar's most active public citizens.

Brother Jones has held public office, ecclesiastical or civil or both continually since his young manhood. Ecclesiastically he held office in the Y. M. M. I. A., was an officer in the Sunday School for twenty-four years, and has been First Councilor to the Stake President since 1925.

In civil offices he has served as County Commissioner, two terms as Mayor of Cedar City, served two terms in the State Legislature, and has been a member of the Iron County School Board and a member of the City Council of Cedar City.

He has also been an active organizer of leading commercial enterprises in Cedar City, being one of the principle organizers of the Cedar Mercantile Co., Iron County Telephone Co., Cedar Motors Co., Cedar City Building and Loan Ass'n. Southern Utah Mortuary, and the Cedar Lumber and Hardware Co., having served as president of the latter from the time it was organized until his death.

He was also active in the founding of the Branch Normal School, now the B. A. C., being the chairman of the committee in charge of matters. More recently he was active in the community effort in building the Escalante Hotel which proved to be such a big factor in the development of Cedar City.

During his earlier life he was considered as the leading builder in Cedar, chief among his efforts being the supervision of the construction of the Tabernacle, the old Ward Hall, and the first B. A. C. buildings, together with many early business houses and residences.

Brother Jones is survived by six children, two brothers and twenty-six grandchildren. His wife and four children having preceeded him in death. His brothers living are Lehi W. Jones, of Cedar and Kumen Jones of San Juan. His living children are Randall L. Jones, Mrs. Sadie Thorley, Mrs. Alfred Stuckl, Marvin and Elton of Cedar and Preston of Nephi.

Funeral services will be held in the Tabernacle Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.
